Effective Leadership and Management of PSHE

A must for all leaders of PSHE, this course enables participants to navigate and explore key issues around effective subject co-ordination including giving consideration to their RSE provision. Participants will consider the importance of subject leadership and management, the 'PSHE' ethos, and the subject's links to a variety of issues including safeguarding, SMSC and British values. The day will assist PSHE Leaders in developing a co-ordinated, effective and comprehensive approach to PSHE ensuring that essential elements such as monitoring and assessment are well considered.

A great place to find out about resources and supportive materials, and to network with other leaders of PSHE.

Effective teaching of phonics & preparing for the phonics screening check in KS1

This training has the twin aims of reviewing what the effective teaching of phonics involves and how to prepare for the phonics screening check in Year 1 and Year 2.

The training will review the structure and content of the phonics screening check, consider the practical arrangements involved and the implications of the check.

The training will also cover a review of the subject knowledge needed to teach phonics and ensure that delegates have a clear understanding of a progression in phonic skills. It will also consider assessment processes and activities for teaching phonics effectively.

Working Together to Safeguard Children

The "Working Together to Safeguard Children" safeguarding awareness course replaces and updates the "What to do if you are worried a child is being abused" training. This half day course is suitable for all staff in schools and education settings. The statutory guidance, 'Keeping Children Safe in Education' indicates that headteachers, and all other staff who work with children, should undertake appropriate training, regularly updated, to equip them to carry out their responsibilities for safeguarding and child protection effectively, (as approved by Surrey Safeguarding Children Board). NQTs should receive this training within three months of starting work. The training will also cover statutory requirements as defined in 'Keeping Children Safe in Education' 2015 and will consider lessons to be learned from key Serious Case Reviews. Take the worry out of meeting these requirements through group training delivered by one of our highly experienced professional trainers.

Making moderation easy: facilitating cross-school professional collaboration in assessment

Assessment is integral to learning and teaching. Moderation, both internal and external, is an essential element of the assessment process. It is centered around professional discussion and ensures accuracy across teacher assessment judgements. How can it be made more manageable without diminishing its purpose? This course will consider strategies and systems that schools can put in place to facilitate more effective internal and external moderation. It will also consider the management of difficult conversations ensuring that any moderation session offers the right level of both support and professional challenge.

Following the successful launch of Babcock strategic partnership with Pobble, we are pleased to offer training to enhance teaching of writing and to make the most of the features Pobble's platform has to offer. The training is not limited to schools already subscribing to Pobble but to all, interested in making assessment more manageable, establishing processes that save time and resources improving the reliability of assessment.

Strengthening Mathematics Subject Leadership

Mathematics is an integral part of daily life. It remains a core subject and is statutorily assessed at the end of each Key Stage. It is essential that leaders of mathematics are able to drive their subject through the use of a range of analysis tools to identify priorities for their school and formulate and evaluate time-bonded actions that secure the best outcomes for all children. This new one day course will provide experienced mathematics leaders with ideas and strategies to take their leadership of mathematics to the next level, ensuring good progress for all children in the subject.

Engage reluctant writers: unlock potential and close the attainment gap

How can we nurture writers that truly love writing; children who can express their thoughts and imagination for different audiences and purposes?

This course will provide delegates with resources, strategies and activities to enrich their school's writing curriculum and give children real purpose to write.

All children have the potential to be great writers, but for some unlocking this is more of a challenge. We will explore ways to deal with difficulty in writing and examples of inspiring writing opportunities; including the excellent Pobble platform.

Language is at heart of the English curriculum and by embracing this, children can develop the power to communicate, strengthening their authorial voice and autonomy. The course will provide guidance on how to do this effectively.

Teaching Effective Relationships and Sex Education (RSE) in Primary Schools

From September 2020 all primary schools will be required to teach elements of RSE.

'Teaching Effective Relationships and Sex Education in Primary Schools' combines guidance and research with effective RSE pedagogy in order to support age appropriate, needs based - active teaching and learning.

Step by step the course takes participants through 'best practice' in RSE linking OfSTED recommendations, statutory requirements, the school RSE policy and practical activities to support pupil development in relationships and sex education and emotional health and well-being.

This is an essential course for increasing the confidence, skills and knowledge of teachers leading and delivering PSHE and RSE in order to ensure the RSE curriculum is positive, successful and accessible – whilst building the essential holistic skills to help address issues such as FGM, CSE, abuse and exploitation.

'Brilliant Leadership' Masterclass with Jonathan Peach (*EARLY BIRD £105+VAT valid until 25Jan)

Traditionally, UK schools have had a 'management' focus which served them well in the recent past. But the world has moved on and so must our thinking. Balancing both management and leadership is the key to change. It can create high performance teams. It has the potential to transform culture and create 'can do' attitudes that flourish throughout the workplace.

Schools that get leadership right will cultivate internal relationships that impact positively on the student experience as well as wellbeing and grades. But 'getting it right' won't happen by accident. Indeed 'leadership' is too important to be left to chance.

This session will give you plenty to both think about and act upon, drawing from some or all of positive psychology, emotional intelligence, the power of listening, harnessing the impact of feedback 'Losada line', creating superheroes and setting genuinely inspirational goals.

Early bird price: £105+VAT. Valid until 25th January 2019.

Annual Employee Health and Wellbeing Conference (*EARLY BIRD: £160+VAT valid until 25 Jan)

Organisational success rests on the essential bedrock of a committed and engaged workforce which ultimately makes school life a better experience for both children and staff. Schools and colleges are all at different stages in the journey when it comes to embedding wellbeing into everyday working life.

This fourth annual one day conference focusses on workplace wellbeing providing practical guidance on how to embed health and wellbeing within your school. Delegates will have the opportunity to explore strategic and operational approaches to building a healthy workplace in key areas such as stress management, mental health and resilience.

By raising awareness of the critical importance of employee wellbeing as a key priority, this conference aims to encourage employers to take a preventative approach to both build and sustain a healthy workplace.

Early bird price: £160+VAT. Valid until 25th January 2019.
